School Life . . . 27

In this '61-'62 edition of the FALCON we have tried to reproduce the spirit of this school year.

This will be the last of the thirty-seven years that the now aged red brick structure has held high school students and as we now leave this building to move into the new building we can remember our experiences here, but yet we look forward to our future experiences, our careers, or college.

The school year '61-62 has been a year to remember ... a year of record snowfall and floods ... Roger Maris was the first to hit 61 home runs in a season ... John Glenn, Jr. was the first United States man to orbit the earth ... a new dance craze, the "twist" was started.

As you leaf through these pages, we hope you will have happy memories of your fellow students, teachers, and events that were part of the school life at West Sioux High.

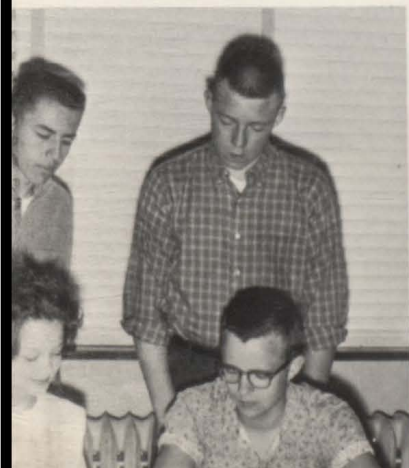

Recall the time we had a run car stuck in the time we got stuck and Ron and I was reaching you like a dome head had it for a year. But I would of hit you if you wouldn't have cause I was pressing, and Ron's very after any more guys till double with you all I hope we have as much the future as the rest of our lives. This is a real sweet kid. Ready

Dedication

With sincerity and untiring effort you have endeavored to instill in us a greater desire to learn and assisted us with patience of steel. Most important, through your own example you have illustrated service to others and wholesome living. For these reasons we, the senior class, dedicate the "62" Falcon to you Mr. Paul Gambaiana.

The Senior Class of 1962. It hardly seems possible. But here we are, all good times behind us, which means, of course, many memories to carry with us through the future. From the morning we entered high school as timid freshmen to the evening we graduated, we have been collecting these memories-- memories of the sophomore carnival, dances, junior class play, banquet and prom, homecoming, senior class play, and finally . . . our graduation.

As we, the Class of '62, leave West Sioux, we promise each other to always remember that "it is a rough road which leads to the height of greatness."

Homecoming

The junior float, "Now is the Hour," announced the moment for the defeat of Canton.

The "Ears to Victory" float, made by the freshmen, is decorated with a huge ear of corn.

The junior high float entitled "Roarin' For Victory" took first place over five other floats.

The sophomore float featured a Kleenex box with tissues boasting, "We'll Wipe 'Em Out."

Jean Eilts, West Sioux's 1961 homecoming queen, poses with her four attendants, Kay Houlton, Kathy Adams, Myrna Richardson, and Roberta Den Hartog, immediately following her crowning at half-time.

Homecoming, the high point of the football season arrived on October 6. The festivities started Thursday night with a snake dance through the streets of town and a huge bonfire at the football field. Friday afternoon the band led a parade of floats down Central Avenue. The parade was ended with a pep rally at the main intersection of town.

The big night came. The goal posts were decorated and the bleachers filled. From the five queen candidates, it was announced that Jean Eilts had been chosen queen by her fellow students. She received her crown and a kiss from captain Bob Rounds. After the game, which was lost to the Canton C-Hawks by one maddening point, the annual homecoming dance was held with the Wagner Combo furnishing the music.

Miss Arends, commercial teacher, helped the sophomores with their float the week of homecoming.

Each year awards are presented to students who show special ability in various fields. Awards are presented at a special assembly the final day of school. Honor awards are given in each of the academic departments of the school. Recognition is also given for outstanding students in band, vocal music, and athletics. Besides these, awards are also given for perfect attendance, high honor roll and citizenship.

Jim Brunsting also received the one-hundred-dollar scholarship from the faculty, represented by Mr. Green.

Bob Rounds smiles as he presents a television set to the school from the graduating senior class.

The various department award-winners are Ron Green, agriculture; Harold Busch, history; Kay Houlton, commercial; Donna Wanless, English; Jim Brunsting, science; and Rodney Vellinga, math.

Kathy Dalton, Alice Dykstra, Kay Bowden, and Janice Schleuter are discussing Paula Burton's illness.

PLAY CAST: FIRST ROW: Alice Dykstra, Adrianna Vellinga, Vicki Blankenship, Kathy Dalton, Mary Van Beek, Paula Burton. SECOND ROW: Janeille Vlotho, Janice Schleuter, Kay Bowden, Susan Lundberg, Irma Kramer, Sharyl Karr.

Irma Kramer, Susan Lundberg, Vicki Blankenship, Mary Van Beek, have Valley View's rules refreshed in their minds.

"School for Girls"

The junior class play, "School for Girls," under the direction of Mr. Baker, was a well-presented combination of both humor and drama.

It took place at Valley View, a select girls' school run by Miss Bradfield (Kay Bowden), a spinster, and her younger sister Miss Anna (Kathy Dalton), with the kitchen under the supervision of the good-natured Irish cook, Rose Mary O'Toole (Alice Dykstra).

The action begins in the fall when the students, Maebelle Hill (Mary Van Beek), Jacklin Cutter (Janice Schleuter), Alice Ramsey (Susan Lundberg), Beatrice Hayworth (Sharyl Karr), Claire Spooner (Vicki Blankenship), and Teresa Knight (Irma Kramer), are returning for another year of study. But the excitement begins when a new teacher, Ruth Croft (Janeille Vlotho), and two new students, Janet Merrill (Adrianna Vellinga), an unsophisticated girl from the country, and Dianne Claypool (Paula Burton), a senator's daughter acutely conscious of her superior social status, join the "family" at Valley View.

Roommates Janet and Dianne prove unsuitable to each other. Dianne cares only for dating, a practice not permitted at Valley View. Through threats she involves Janet in a plot to sneak out on a late evening date. When they are caught in the act, the vicious Dianne blames innocent Janet.

However, Janet has found loyal friends in the students of Valley View, and the new teacher, Miss Croft; and they manage to bring Janet's innocence to light before Elvira. Happily, everything turns out for the best.

Is it the doctor or is it Janice Schleuter? That seems to be the question confronting Kathy Dalton, Adrianna Vellinga, Susan Lundberg, and Sharyl Karr.

"Huckleberry Finn"

The Louisiana village of Pikesville, near the Mississippi River in the summer of 1850. This was the setting of a senior class play which certainly had its ups and downs. (With three feet of snow on the ground, practices were not frequent!) But despite disadvantages "Huckleberry Finn," under Mr. Baker's direction, was successfully presented and well received . . . on schedule.

The hilarious farce was centered around the adventures of two twelve-year-old boys, Huck Finn (Rodney Vellinga) and Tom Sawyer (Don Kelhower).

Aunt Sally Phelps (Kay Houlton), who has a lively daughter Matilda (Janice Koopmans) about the same age as her nephew Tom, has taken in the three Wilks girls, Mary Jane (Roberta Den Hartog), Susan (Jean Eilts), and Joanna (Donna Wanless), whose wealthy father has died, leaving them a fortune.

This not-especially-unusual situation is interrupted, however, by the entrance of "The King" (Denny Kallsen) and "The Duke" (Jack Bode), two vicious rascalians posing as the girls' uncles from England in hopes of gaining a share in Peter Wilks' fortune. To be convincing they bring Huck Finn, supposedly Adolphus, their servant.

Meanwhile a lovers' quarrel is taking place between Mary Jane and Dr. Ben Robinson (Bob Gebbie), a good friend of the Wilks girls' late father. The feud is caused by Aunt Sally's talkative neighbor, Mrs. Hotchkiss (Ruth Harmelink), who is trying to play cupid with the doctor and her "delicate" daughter, Glory Belle (Becky Pereboom). Adding fuel to the fire are Dr. Robinson's suspicions concerning "The King and "The Duke."

And while all this is taking place (as if it weren't enough) Tom Sawyer, who has just arrived from Missouri, and his old friend Huck succeed in their complicated efforts to set the runaway slave, Jim (Jim Gaul) free in the reg'lar way, although the presence of Aunt Sally's Negro maid Liza (Drenda Karr) was making his imprisonment rather enjoyable.

Ruth Harmelink shows her pleasure at Robert Den Hartog's shock when she sees her lover, Bob Gebbie, with Ruth's daughter, Becky Pereboom.

Don Kelhower slips a servant girl's uniform over Rodney Vellinga's head as a part of the scheme to rescue Jim Gaul, the runaway slave.

Kay Houlton, Donna Wanless, Jean Eilts and Janice Koopmans examine a clue left by the runaway slave. The shirt, so say the girls, is covered with secret African writing done up in blood.

These attractively-attired sophomores served the meal at the banquet and added to the rosy atmosphere.

The moonlight and roses were beautiful, and students enjoyed them while dancing and conversing.

Banquet and Prom

The banquet and prom, presented each year by the juniors with the seniors and faculty as honored guests, climax the social events of the academic year. The juniors can be justly proud this year. They carried out their theme, "Moonlight and Roses," in detail. The tables at the banquet were abundantly decorated with roses, and the waitresses wore bright rose-colored dresses. The junior quartet sang "Moonlight and Roses."

The high school gymnasium was transformed into a paradise of the night. The rose-covered wishing well and shining full moon provided atmosphere for dancing to the music of the Rhythm-Aires. Memories of these festivities will not be soon forgotten.

The speakers for the junior-senior banquet enjoyed their meal at the beautifully decorated head table.

Baccalaureate

The seniors of 1962 received their spiritual preparation for graduation on the Sunday evening preceding commencement exercises.

"Climb Every Mountain" and the traditional "You'll Never Walk Alone" were sung by the mixed chorus, and Rev. Sebring, pastor of the Associated Church, was the speaker for the evening. Speaking directly to the graduating class, he told them that the most important thing in life is not necessarily that they themselves are great, but that that for which they stand is greater.

The seniors are led to their places by Kay Bowden.

Commencement

On Tuesday, May 29, 1962, fifty-eight nervous seniors slowly entered the high school auditorium as Miss Rexwinkle played "Pomp and Circumstance." When the entire graduating class had been seated, they listened to three of their classmates present musical solos and gave their attention to Dr. Leroy G. Nelson as he delivered the address entitled "Hats Off to the Past; Coats Off to the Future."

After awards had been presented to the outstanding students, the members of the Class of '62 received their diplomas from E. V. Slife, president of the school board.

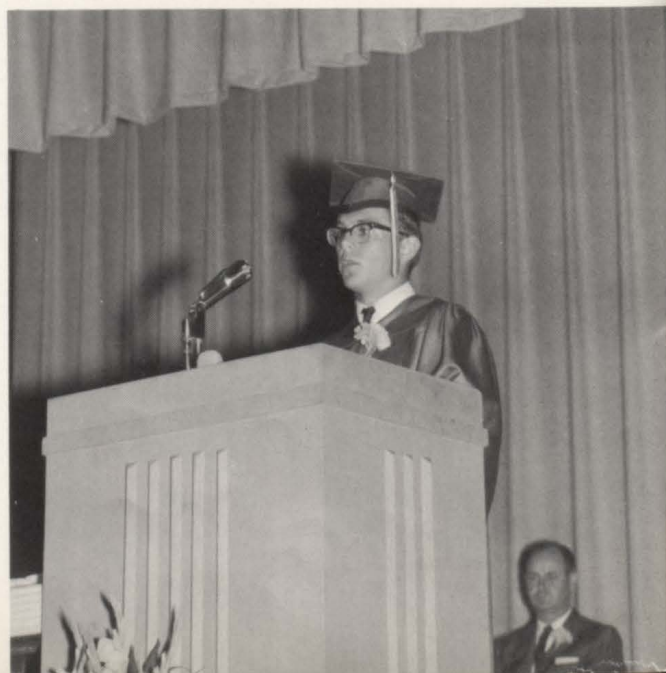

Tassels on the right, fifty-eight happy and relieved seniors made their exit from the auditorium and their entry into the future.

Juniors, Ron Girard and Kay Bowden, served as ushers for the graduation activities.

Class president, Bob Rounds, spoke in behalf of the senior class.

Organizations

Band

West Sioux High's Band, under the direction of Mr. Blemaster, has been kept busy this year. The members started off the '61-'62 school year with a show of their marching talents. The band participated in Hobo Day activities at South Dakota State College in Brookings, Dakota Day at the University of South Dakota in Vermillion, and at all the home football games. They presented a half-time show in connection with the coronation of the queen at homecoming.

Later in the year, the members turned their attention to the concert band. They joined the vocal music department in presenting the Christmas and Spring concerts.

For the final event of the year, the band marched in the Memorial Day parade in both Ireton and Hawarden.

TWIRLERS: Alice Dykstra, Marilyn Bell, Paula Burton, Susan Lundberg, Barbara Liston, Kay Bowden.

CLARINET TRIO: Donna Wanless, Kay Houlton, and Janeille Vlotho.

TROMBONE QUARTET: Irma Kramer, Bob Imray, Jean Eilts, and Leland Vander Hamm.

Mixed Chorus

The school's largest vocal group, the mixed chorus, under the direction of Mr. Brown, entertained the public on three different occasions this year: The Christmas and spring musicals and the annual KTIV Christmas presentation. The year was ended with their traditional appearance at the baccalaureate service for the graduating seniors.

The largest turn-out of members for a girls' glee club came this year. For this reason, the glee club was divided into two groups, which sang separately and in combined voices. The boys' glee club also had a much larger membership. These groups, along with the mixed chorus, participated in the Christmas and spring concerts.

Annual Staff

The Annual Staff is not a "fun" organization, but the work which it involves is very rewarding. The members of the staff learn to apply themselves to a specific amount of work which must be completed by a date set months ahead. In the process of doing this, various obstacles, such as two weeks of snow vacation, must be overcome. All gain experience in assuming responsibility and working diligently, guided by Mr. Muilenburg.

The Annual Staff of 1962 hopes that this book, although imperfect, will be treasured for many years to come and will be paged through now and then to renew old memories.

Student Council

One of the most worthwhile and effective clubs of West Sioux High is the student council. Its primary objective is the furthering of student-faculty relationships. The nine representatives--two from each class and one from band--meet every Monday morning to work out the problems that occur during the school year, and also to help in more pleasant jobs such as electing cheerleaders, setting up homecoming, and traveling to Sioux City to take part in panel discussions on student behavior.

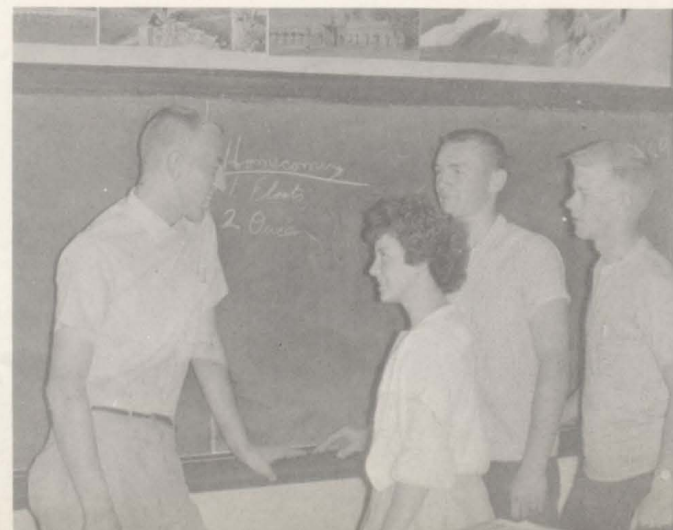

The officers are elected in the fall by the entire student body by majority vote. The officers this year were: Jim Gaul, president; Mary Busch, vice-president; Joe Carr, secretary; and Ralph Hanson, treasurer. Mr. Roth is council advisor.

Some student council members count ballots after an election of cheerleaders for the 62-63 school year.

National Honor Society

West Sioux High School's chapter of the National Honor Society is among 3,000 Chapters in American high schools. This organization gives recognition to outstanding seniors on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character, and service. The faculty chooses ten per cent of the graduating seniors each year to receive this honor award.

G.A.A.

This year was a spectacular success for the Girls' Athletic Association. At their first meeting the girls elected Ruth Harmelink, president; Kay Bowden, vice-president; Barb Mollhoff, secretary; and Marilyn Bell, treasurer.

During the year a various number of sports were played with competition among the different teams. The GAA members, in the course of the year, became experts in the fields of basketball, volleyball, and track. The first girls' track team in the school's history, the West Sioux Female Falcons, traveled to Odebolt to participate in the district girls' track meet. Although they didn't capture any honors, the girls gained much experience and had an exciting time.

This club, sponsored by Miss McDiarmid, is rapidly becoming one of the most popular activities of the extracurricular program offered to West Sioux girls and shows promise of becoming still more prominent.

F.T.A.

This year a new organization was formed at West Sioux. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Doty, the Future Teachers of America were "off to a flying start," electing Jim Gaul, president; Susan Lundberg, vice-president; Judy Ballard, secretary; Kristi Wohlenberg, treasurer; and Ardell Edmunds, historian.

The parties were fun, of course, but the real thrill came when the members taught classes for a whole day while the teachers were attending a conference. That was different than just cadet-teaching for a few periods in a week. It will always be remembered as a broadening and sometimes humorous experience.

The F.T.A. looks forward to future years of success.

F.H.A.

It has been said that housewives are the backbone of the nation. Therefore, in order to build a stronger nation, the Future Homemakers of America prepare for tomorrow with worthwhile activities today.

As well as doing such things as repairing and painting toys for the children's home in Sioux City and caroling for shut-ins, the FHA enjoyed the fun of a skating party and progressive dinner.

Mrs. Peterson guided the members in their activities, and the officers were Judy Utesch, president and Pam Lang secretary-treasurer.

The Future Farmers of America, an organization for boys interested in agricultural and agriculturally-related careers, is sponsored by Mr. Iverson. The boys gain experience in cattle, hog, and poultry feeding and buying; learn more about farm mechanics; and receive suggestions concerning more progressive methods of crop planting and harvesting.

This year some members of the F.F.A. achieved something of which the organization can be proud. Bill Miller, Randy Rozell, Ron Green, and Larry Schumacher placed fourth in the invitational livestock judging contest at the Sioux City stockyards on March 9. The team garnered 3,015.96 points from a possible 3,200.

Officers for this year were Randy Rozell, president; Doug Wasser, vice-president; Stanley Kemner, secretary; and Larry Schumacher, treasurer.

Library Club

Sponsored by Miss Dearborn, seventeen junior and senior girls with at least a "B" English average carry out the duties necessary in maintaining a library which meets the needs of the students.

Besides this routine work, the girls meet once a month for an evening of fun and food, as well as an informative lesson.

The climax of the year, however, is always the annual spinsters' spree. For weeks the girls work busily on decorations, posters, and all the other elements which make this dance a yearly success and a means of raising money for the spring trip to Sioux City, dinner at the Normandy, and a show.

Elected officers for this year were Kay Houlton, president; Roberta Den Hartog, vice-president; Drenda Karr, secretary-treasurer; and Karen Treiber, reporter.

Drenda Karr, Becky Pereboom, Alice Dykstra, Sylvia Robertson, Jack Bode, Bob Thompson, Bob Gebbie, and Dennis Kallsen participated in tournament debate this year.

Speech Club

Vermillion, Manson, Le Mars, and Fort Dodge: these were the sites of the various contests that members of the West Sioux speech club participated in this past year.

Although efforts at Vermillion and forensic league district preliminaries at Manson resulted in no top ratings, speech association entries were more rewarding. Three members, Ruth Harmelink, Barbara Liston, and Becky Pereboom received superior ratings, earning the opportunity to enter the state finals at Fort Dodge where they all were awarded excellents.

This year's officers were Becky Pereboom, president; Roberta Den Hartog, vice president; Ruth Harmelink, secretary; and Denny Kallsen, treasurer.

More successful years are promised by this worthwhile club, sponsored by Mr. Baker.

Math Club

The activities of the math club this year ranged from fun with mathematical puzzles to the serious business of preparing for the MAA contest. At other meetings the members thoroughly studied the slide rule and received practice in discerning hidden fallacies in apparently correct problems.

This club, sponsored by Mr. Muilenburg, is a group of juniors and seniors who have had at least four semesters of mathematics and are interested in improving themselves further in that field. They elected Bob Thompson president, Rodney Vellinga vice-president, Harold Busch secretary, and Tom Bennett treasurer.

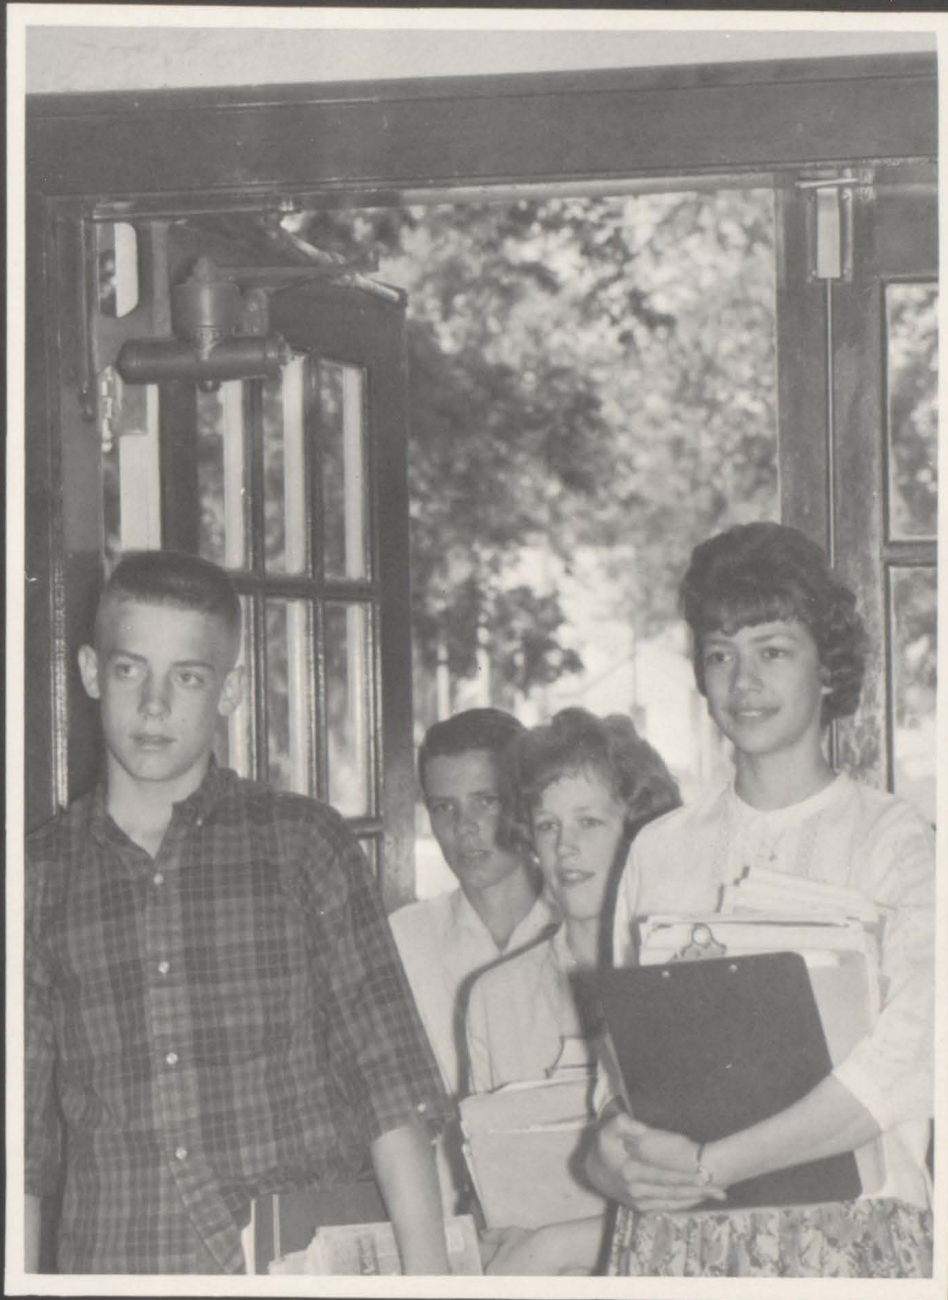

French Club

C'est la vie. C'est si bon . . . These phrases are familiar to almost any student at West Sioux. To learn more about this strange way of speaking, however, one must take French, and all French students interested in social use of the language make up Le Cercle Francais, sponsored by Mrs. Ball, with Harold Busch as president and Gary Wasser as secretary-treasurer.

In addition to a lively initiation party and the gala Christmas festivities, a colorful dance featuring the sidewalks of Paris was presented for the students. The profit from this dance was used to purchase a picnic feast eaten at Union County State Park. This ended a successful year.

Academic

Mrs. Smith explains some sociology facts to three of her students; Marlys Dirks, Sally Jensen, and Jim Kurtz.

Second-period world history class concentrates over a quiz.

Social Studies

This year there were six courses in the field of social studies, three of which are required for graduation. The three required courses are world history, American history, and American government, while the three optional ones are psychology, economics, and sociology, all semester courses.

The sophomores' study of the history of the world begins in the Stone Age and ends in the 1950's. It covers the Golden Age of Greece, the Dark Ages, the Renaissance, and all the other periods in history throughout the world.

The juniors carefully study the development of the American democracy, the administration of each president, and the different conditions which have influenced American economy.

Government, a semester course for seniors, informs the student of the mechanics involved in operating our nation, and psychology gives the causes of, effects of, and possible solutions for many American problems.

In economics one learns how the government and the individual are financed. Sociology, the second semester, is a study of people living together.

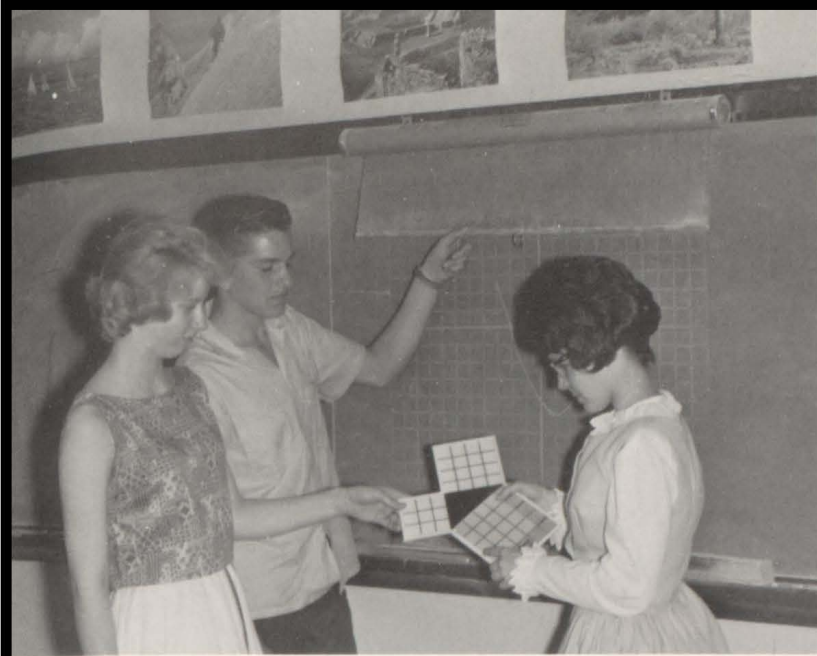

Sophomore world history students RoseMary Bultman and Judy Ballard, ask Mr. Held for their semester grades.

Mr. Ashton points out a trouble spot on the map to the American history class.

The sixth period psychology class, made up entirely of seniors, study today's social problems.

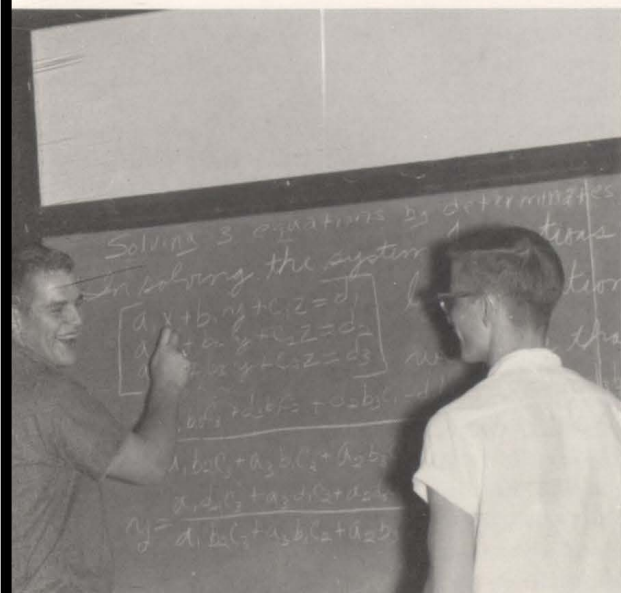

Three freshmen, Kristi Wohlenberg, Wayne Bultman, and Denice Lienhart, use models and graphing in their study of Algebra I.

Mr. Holmes uses charts in explaining to his business mathematics class the complicated details connected with income tax.

Students of eighth period geometry class work problems on the board as a form of review for their semester test.

Jim Busch, Ralph Hanson, Jerry Lang, and Dawn Huebner attended regular after-school sessions with Mr. Muilenburg to complete a SMSG algebra course.

Mathematics

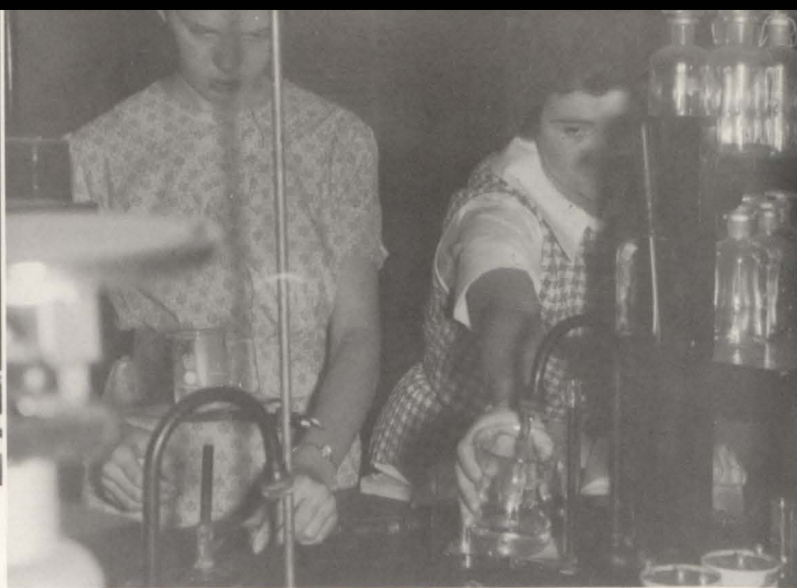

Harold Busch appears to be enjoying himself as he shows Gary Wasser how to work out an advanced algebra problem.

West Sioux's mathematics program includes courses suited to the needs and abilities of all. A student who is concentrating on commercial or vocational training may wish to take general math his freshman year and business math sometime in the course of his next three years in high school, whereas another, who is preparing for college, may prefer to study freshman algebra, plane and solid geometry, intermediate algebra, and advanced mathematics.

Among the extra activities in this academic area are a math club with two years of college preparatory math as a requirement for membership, a special course for freshmen from the School Mathematics Study Group, and the math contest and science fair at the University of South Dakota.

Steve Aldrich, RoseMary Bultman, and Kent Schwiesow are examining the newest addition to the biology menagerie.

Irma Kramer and Karen Treiber are performing last minute preparations for the science fair.

Rocky Stickel, Jerry Meins, and Linda Van Roekel, students of general science, are studying the principles of the telephone in the laboratory.

Bob Roghair and Bobby Berge dissect their first specimens (worms) in biology class.

Bart Waggoner and Ed Eneboe look on with interest while Bob Thompson strains his eyes to detect x-rays in the physics laboratory.

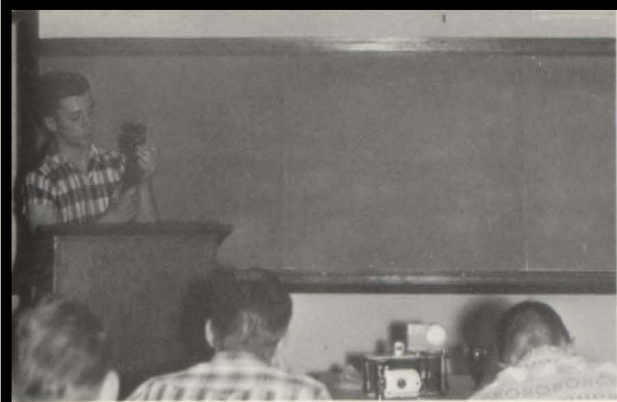

Science

General Science, biology, chemistry, and physics are offered by the West Sioux science department. General science and any one of the other three courses are required for graduation.

Each year the four science classes combine to present the big scientific event of the year at West Sioux, the science fair. This event necessitates much work, and preparations are made months ahead of time. During these weeks and months each student devotes the majority of his after-school time and many of his study halls to working on his project and striving for perfection.

When the projects are finally arranged in the high school gym, they may range from the synthetic crystals made by a junior chemist to an electric motor put together in the physics laboratory to a diagram of the parts of the human body drawn by a biology student. A few of the better projects proceed the science fair at SUSD in Vermillion to compete with projects of other students in the four-state area.

Jim Rholfs gives a demonstration speech as a requirement for junior English.

Jim Gaul explains a few of the fine points involved in recording a radio play during speech class.

Larry Pearson, Janice Schleuter, and Doug Twedt carry out part of their English course by reading magazines.

Language Skills

Four years of English, three years of French, a course in speech, constitute West Sioux's department in the language skills.

Freshman English is, like all four English courses, a combination of both grammar and literature. One of the high points of the year is reached when the class reads a condensed version of GREAT EXPECTATIONS. Sophomores read SILAS MARNER and JULIUS CAESAR, juniors make a study of American literature, and seniors read and discuss world literature.

The first year of French is spent studying some of the basic rules of grammar and pronunciation along with reading and translation of some simple literature, while the second year includes more advanced grammar, reading, and translation, featuring an excerpt from LES MISERABLES. Third-year French is primarily more advanced translation and a review of previous study.

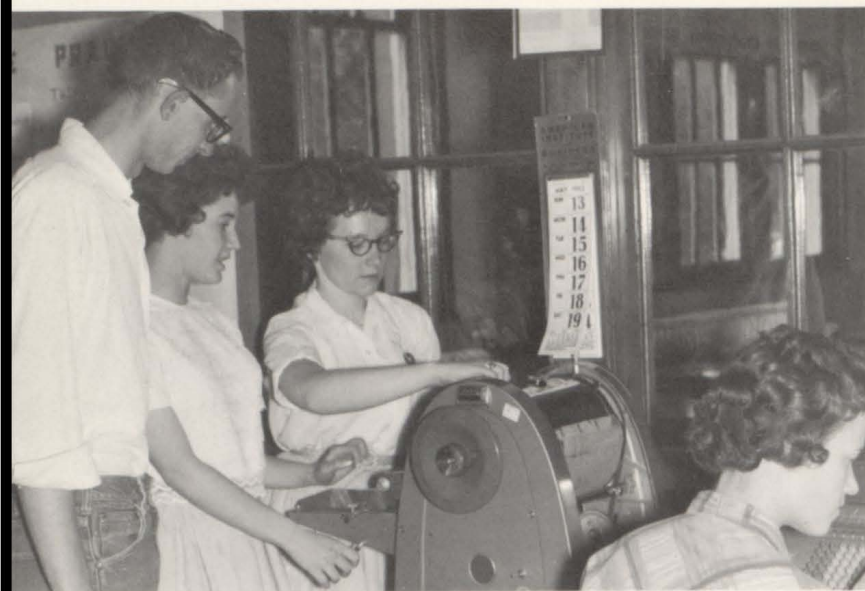

The speech students study and practice in a wide variety of fields, including discussion, debate, drama, interpretation, declamation, and radio. Through this course students gain experience in speaking before a group, learn to express themselves more correctly, develop an interest in one of the important problems of the day, and receive a background for the contest work in which the speech club participates.

By group discussion, each member of the sophomore class gives an oral book report. Here Sherry Boyles gives her report to four other class members.

The junior English class is given class time to concentrate on tomorrow's literature assignment.

The sixth-period typing students are limbering up their fingers before work starts.

Commercial

Commercial courses include typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, and office practice. These subjects are offered for those students who wish to enter the business world after their graduation. When taking these courses, they learn to do production work, take dictation, transcribe letters, keep accurate records, and work efficiently in an office. Records of progress in these courses are charted, and the students are able to observe their improvement and standing among their classmates. This often stimulates increased effort as do the awards for typing and shorthand presented on the final day of school.

Brian Hultquist is carefully using the jig saw on his project.

Part of the requirements of the art course are working on papier-mache and painting. Here Marvin Ahrens and Kelvin Richmond are working on their projects.

Vocational

The vocational courses are designed to give the student practical training in industrial arts, agriculture, homemaking, and art.

Freshman boys must take either industrial arts or agriculture. Industrial arts involves learning and practicing the techniques of woodworking. The students projects range from the very simple ones to those requiring a great deal of skill and knowledge. In his agriculture class, a boy is trained in farming and related careers. He is instructed in engine repair, farm maintenance, and animal feeding. The FFA is open to him if he wishes to extend his training.

Freshman girls are required to take home economics and may continue their domestic training if interested. The first year gives simple instruction in cooking, sewing, and other basic duties of a homemaker. Following courses feature advanced training in these same fields. FHA provides the girls with an opportunity to broaden their interest and knowledge.

Students who like to draw, paint, and/or mold enjoy taking the art course offered at West Sioux. It gives creative pupils an opportunity to display and develop their talents by means of various projects. Contest work during the year serves as an incentive for accomplishment.

The new West Sioux High School will be completed this summer and ready for students this fall.

The biology lab contains shelves for specimens, drawers for utensils, and all the work space necessary for complete demonstrations.

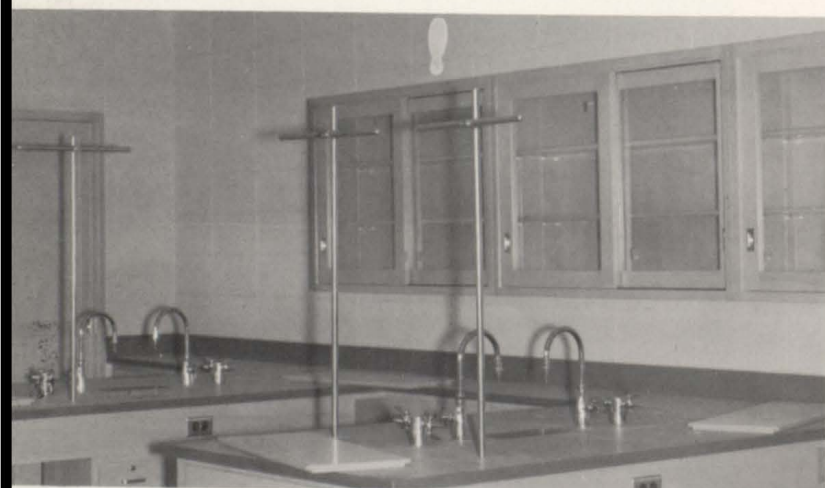

Next year will mark the beginning of a new era for West Sioux High School. By fall the new high school building, which has been in the planning stage for the past three years, will become a reality.

During the past year, students have been able to watch the new facilities take shape. The building has risen from a plan on a drawing board to the complete structure to be ready for students next fall.

The new building is not modern on the outside alone. Featured in this new high school will be the latest and most modern equipment available. Surely it will be a pleasure to learn in such an atmosphere.

Our chemistry and physics lab has all the newest conveniences to help science students with their projects and experiments.

This is the northeast entrance of the newly-constructed building.

Football

This season, the best in West Sioux's brief history, has been one full of spirit, displaying fine sportsmanship as well as ability.

Individual standouts, Bob Rounds, Bart Waggoner, Bruce Waterman, Don Abbott, and Harold Busch, received honorable mention from All-State selections. Rounds, the team's top scorer with 83 points was granted honorable mention by Wigwam's All-American.

The West Sioux Falcons optimistically opened their season with a conference game on the home field. Their optimism was justified as they crushed the Bluejays of George 46-7.

One of the most thrilling games of the football season was the Maurice-Orange City game. With the Dutchmen leading 13-0 at the end of the first quarter, the Falcons behind the spirit and drive of Bob Rounds, started a comeback that propelled them to a 28-26 victory.

The Falcons scored a crushing victory over the Akron Red Raiders in the third game of the season. Although West Sioux tailed 6-7 at the end of the first quarter, they picked up speed and spirit with Bob Rounds making touchdowns in the second quarter. No scoring was made in the third quarter, but Rounds and Brunsting each made one touchdown in the last quarter. The Falcons came through with a 32-7 victory.

Homecoming brought the rugged C-Hawks of Canton to the West Sioux field. Although the home team built up a 13-0 lead in the first half, the visiting team made an astonishing comeback, spoiling West Sioux's record by one heartbreaking point. The score might have been 19-14 rather than 14-13, but the game was ended before the Falcons were able to make a final play from the one-yard line.

the score. Bruce Waterman made the second touchdown with Waggoner making the extra point. The next touchdown was scored by Rounds, with Schumacher making the extra point. The home team was never able to penetrate farther than the 31 yard line against the tough Falcon defense. The game ended in a 32-0 victory for West Sioux.

The Falcons approached the crucial game of the season as they traveled to Rock Rapids to assist the Central Lyon Lions in deciding the Siouxland Conference championship. Despite Waterman's power, and an early Falcon lead, the undefeated Lions proved their prowess by defeating West Sioux 20-12.

In the last home game of the season, the Falcons dumped Le Mars Gehlen 47-6. In a spectacular showing, Bruce Waterman scored five touchdowns, adding 33 points to his record and West Sioux's score.

The West Sioux-Le Mars Central game ended in a heartbreaking 13-20 score. The Bulldog touchdown which won the game was made with 11 seconds left on the clock. This game ended West Sioux's season with a 5-3 record.

Basketball

This year has been an exciting, yet in some ways disappointing season for West Sioux basketball. Although the Falcons were successful in the majority of their attempts to defeat their rivals, they were just not quite strong enough to be victorious in other cases.

The season was opened with the game against Canton in which the Falcons were defeated 53-39.

Vermillion was the second challenger. The Falcons led in the first quarter, dropped behind by the half, but led at the end of the third quarter. The game ended in a 58-53 victory for West Sioux.

The third game with Alcester was an example of the Falcons rugged rebounding and defense. After the first five minutes, West Sioux led all the way, ending the game 51-44 in their favor.

West Sioux toppled their rivals for the third consecutive time in the game against the Akron Red Raiders. The halftime score was 30-28 in the Falcons' favor, and the game ended with a 61-49 win.

The Warriors of Sioux Center were the next to meet the Falcons. West Sioux lead briefly in the first quarter, but fell behind, never to catch up. The game ended in a 65-55 defeat.

The LeMars gym was the site of the next Falcon game. West Sioux trailed LeMars Central all the way, to finish with a score of 56-40.

The West Sioux Falcons, in an attempt to break their losing streak, took on Central Lyon. With this hope, the Falcons rallied from a 9 point deficit in the final minutes, but it was not enough to bring a victory, and the final score read 69-64 in favor of the Lions.

Then victory came! Although the Falcons were weak on their free throws, they defeated Rock Valley. At the half the score was 30-23, but with Rock Valley on the small end, by the third quarter the gap was closed to one point. With three minutes left to play in the game the score read 49-47. The Falcons gained momentum and finished the game with a 62-50 score.

Next the Falcons met Maurice-Orange City on their court. MOC defeated the Falcons by a margin of 54-42.

The Leeds Lancers were the challengers for the 10th game of the season. The Falcons led all the way. At the end of the game, the scoreboard read 69-64 in West Sioux's favor.

Akron again met the West Sioux Falcons, this time on the home court. The first half of the game was exceptionally close with the halftime score 29-28 for West Sioux, but the second half the Falcons broke away to end the game in a 78-58 victory.

The twelfth game was played in the West Sioux gym in Ireton against George. West Sioux led throughout the game, but the gap closed to 3 points with only 2 minutes left to play. Still the Falcons overpowered George to finish victorious 56-48.

Gehlen encountered the Falcons for the second time and broke the West Sioux winning streak. The Falcons were out-pointed 64-50.

Next the Falcons took on Central Lyon, but as before they proved to be too strong for the Falcon defense. The game ended 55-40.

The Rock Valley-West Sioux meet was an exciting one. In the first thirteen minutes it was a very close game, then the Falcons surged ahead to defeat their opponents 77-53.

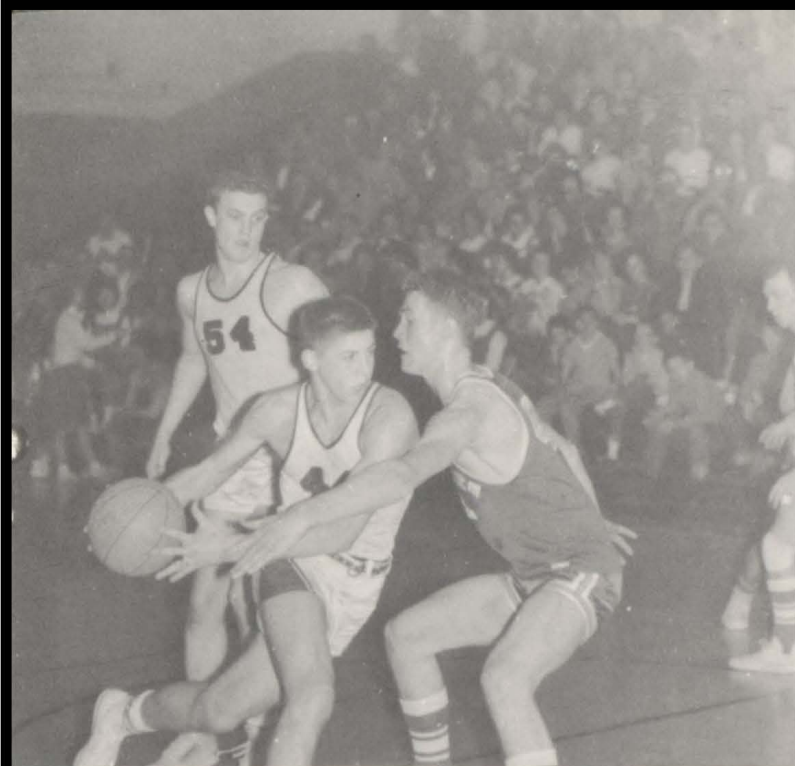

The second George game was a disappointment for West Sioux. Although the Falcons defeated them in the first game, the Falcons could not overcome the vengeful opponents in the second and the game ended in a 70-55 defeat for West Sioux.

The seventeenth game of the season was the MOC-West Sioux encounter. The Falcons were again defeated by their too-strong rivals 78-51.

The last non-tournament game West Sioux played was against Marcus. The Falcons trailed in the first few minutes, but rallied to finish the season with a 59-53 victory.

Sheldon was the first to encounter the Falcons on the court in tournament play. With only three minutes to play the Falcons came from an eight point deficit to defeat Sheldon 65-62, allowing the Falcons to continue to the second round of play.

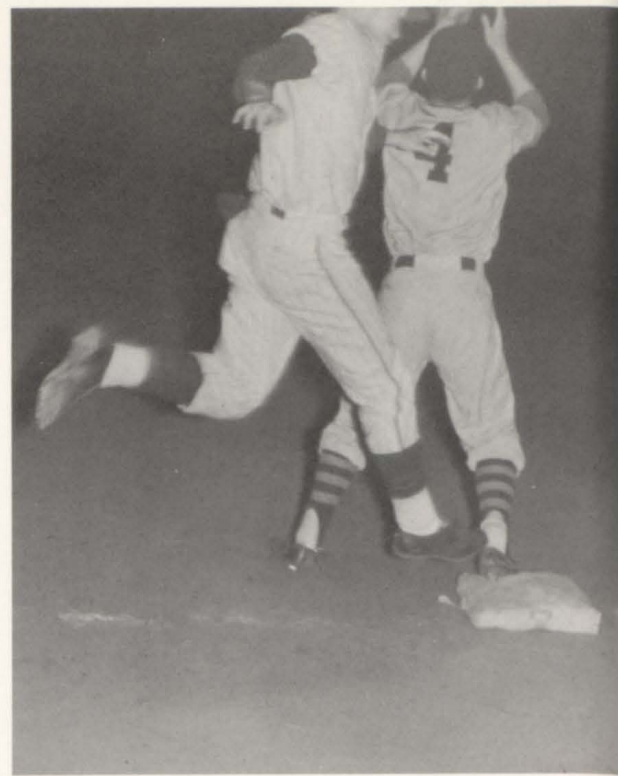

In the second round the Falcons met Maurice-Orange City. MOC maintained a ten point lead throughout the game until the final rally. Denny Kallsen led the scoring with 31 points, but this was not enough to defeat the Dutchmen. The gun sounded with the score 61-55.

Baseball

Last year's summer baseball team made an addition to the trophy case by winning the conference title, and they hope for more of the same this year. The absence of defeat in the few games thus far is no doubt a sample of what is to come.

Games this summer include those against Akron, George, Central Lyon, Maurice-Orange City, and West Lyon. The sectional tournament will be held July 9-13.

Harlon Bruxvoort gets a single base hit.

Golf

Both boys and girls participate in the sport of golf at West Sioux. This season has been only moderately successful for the teams as a whole, but very successful for one senior girl.

The boys' team placed fourth and the girls' team third in the district tournament at Correctionville. Joan Gearhart, however, attained the district championship and in cold rainy weather shot a 93 for eighteen holes to place fourth out of 100 in the Iowa high school girls' golf tournament.

Playing golf on the girls' team were Susan Lundberg, Patty Koob, Joan Gearhart, Janeille Vlotho, Kim Dalton, and Karon Zimmerman.

Cross Country

The West Sioux Falcon's cross-country team was Class A state champs at both Iowa City and Des Moines. In the Des Moines meet Ed Eneboe placed first, Tim White was second, and Rodney Vellinga placed third. At Iowa City, the results were: Ed Eneboe, first; Rodney Vellinga, second; and Dan Cain, fifth. Two other meets were attended by the Falcons. Lennox was the scene of the team's first attempt in cross-country. Ed Eneboe placed third at this meet and later placed first at the Sioux City meet.

The West Sioux cross country track team was composed of Dan Cain, Rodney Vellinga, Tim White, and Ed Eneboe.

Ed Eneboe takes the conference title in pole vaulting with a 10' 6" leap.

With spring comes the track season. West Sioux High's team was among the outstanding in the district and a few of its members received recognition throughout the state.

The season opened at the Holstein Relays with West Sioux taking fourth place. Two West Sioux records were broken: Ed Eneboe in the mile with a 4:35, and Bruce Waterman in the low hurdles with 21:5.

At the tri-angular meet with Sheldon and Le Mars, West Sioux placed second with 47 points.

The third meet was at Cherokee. Ed Eneboe won the mile with a time of 4:42.

West Sioux placed third in the Central Lyon Relays. The 880 relay team (Waterman, Vander Hamm, Twedt, and Schumacher) topped the school record with a time of 1:37.2. Ed Eneboe made a new school and meet record in the pole vault with a leap of 11'4." Larry Smith with a 193' toss also topped the record in the football throw.

Des Moines was the scene of the next meet. Ed Eneboe broke the school record with a 4:33 for the mile at the Drake Relays.

West Sioux placed third at Milford with three school records being broken: the medley relay team with a 3:53. Butch Strong in the high jump of 5'7," and Ed Eneboe with 11'5" in the pole vault.

The Siouxland conference meet finished with West Sioux capturing second place and 81 1/2 points. Larry Smith set a new conference and school record in the football throw with a heave of 210'7." The medley team set a new record of 3:47. Two other West Sioux records were also broken: Bruce Waterman in the broad jump with 19'10" and Don Abbott in the discus with 115'7."

Ed Eneboe finished first in the state Class A mile run setting a new record for himself and for West Sioux at Iowa City with a 4:31.9.

The total points scored this year by the track seniors were: Eneboe, 108; Twedt, 71; Vander Hamm, 45; Bruxvoort, 18; Rounds, 11; Waggoner, 10; Vellinga, 7; Rozell, 3.

Bruce Waterman receives the baton from Leland Vander Hamm.

Doug Twedt breaks the string for a conference win in the 220-yard dash.

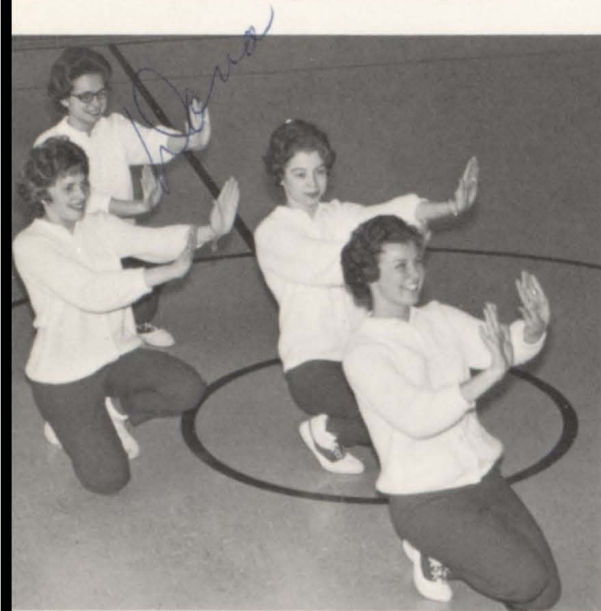

Coach Held looks on as Ed Eneboe nears the finish line.

Leland Vander Hamm, Dan Cain, Doug Twedt, and Harlan Bruxvoort made up the successful one-mile relay team.

The two-mile relay team was composed of Denny Miller, Tim White, Jim Rohlf, Don Abbott, and Rod Vellinga.

"B" Team Cheerleaders: Adriana Vellinga, Dana Lingscheit, Andrea Bunge, Barb Bergdale.

"A" Team Cheerleaders: Linda Hartman, Sylvia Robertson, Patty Horton, Mary Van Beek, Barb Mollhoff.

Cheerleaders

Each spring the presidents of the various organizations and the members of the student council select ten girls from all those who wish to be cheerleaders. Soon after, an assembly is held and the entire student body chooses the five "A" cheerleaders for the following year from this field of ten. The remaining five cheer for the "B" team.

These girls have an important job, as it is their duty to raise the spirits of the players and lend pep to the Falcon boosters.

Letterman's Club

Football, basketball, track, and baseball lettermen were brought before the spotlight this year. And how!

In this instance they demonstrated their prowess not on the basketball court or football field, but on the dance floor. And, of course, they did none other than introduce the nationwide twist craze to West Sioux High School students. Their successful dance featured Mr. Held, the sponsor, and his newly-initiated lettermen in a demonstration entitled "How to Dance the Twist."

The officers of this organization were: Dennis Kallsen, president; Don Abbott, vice-president; Ed Eneboe, secretary; and Doug Wasser, treasurer.

This yearbook is an attempt to capture the events of the 61-62 school year; the year the new high school building was erected and the old closed.

These pages contain the bases for memories which are common to all of us, and in years to come, its pages may bring back these memories not forgotten, just misplaced.

As this year comes to an end I would like to thank every staff member and especially Mr. Muilenburg for the many hard hours spent making this book a success.

Yours truly

Jim Gaul
